Declaration of Questions for the Record – IRS Lien

Questions placed into the record under penalty of perjury. Silence = confession.

1. Who are you, and under what lawful capacity do you claim to act against me, a living woman?
2. By what sovereign delegated authority do you act, and will you place into the record your oath of office and bond?
3. Do you claim we have a valid contract, knowingly, willingly, and intentionally entered with full disclosure?
4. Where is the original, wet-ink contract, signed knowingly, willingly, and intentionally by me?
5. Am I your slave, ward, or surety, and if so, produce the lawful document by which you enslave me?
6. On what lawful basis do you claim authority to seize, lien, or encumber my private property, absent a valid contract or judgment of a court of record of the people?
7. By your failure to prove jurisdiction, contract, or lawful authority, do you now admit liability for fraud, barratry, impersonation, and constructive treason, making you personally liable to me for harm, trespass, and damages?

Notice of Harm – Erroneous Lien

1. I am a living woman, not a U.S. citizen, resident, or person subject to statutory jurisdiction.
2. The IRS has filed a lien against my private property, which is exempt and not subject to federal levy.
3. This action is based on fraud, as no lawful contract exists between me, the living [man/woman], and the IRS.
4. The harm includes intimidation, loss of peace, interference with right to travel, and commercial trespass.
5. I require immediate rescission of fraudulent liens and correction of the record nunc pro tunc, ab initio.
6. Liability terms:
 - $10,000,000 per unlawful act outside lawful delegation of authority.
 - $1,000,000 per day for trespass, kidnapping, or unlawful detention.
 - $100,000 per false presumption, misrepresentation, or unwarranted action.

Notice of Claim – IRS Lien Fraud

1. I am a living Marianne Fidler, not a U.S. citizen, resident, or person subject to statutory jurisdiction.
2. The IRS has placed a lien against my private property under false presumptions of debt and contract.
3. Said lien was created without my knowing, willing, and intentional consent, and without any lawful contract with me.
4. The lien constitutes fraud, impersonation, conversion, and securities violations.
5. I hereby rescind and reclaim nunc pro tunc, ab initio, any bond, lien, or instrument created in my name. Said instruments are my property and must be returned to my control immediately.
6. Any further attempt to seize, levy, or encumber my private property constitutes trespass and commercial liability.
